The Sierran Regional study unit consists of one study area encompassing the entire Sierra Nevada. Portions of 23 of the 58 counties in the State of California are within the study unit and it is one of 35 GAMA study units in California.

The GAMA Program was created as a result of statewide groundwater quality concerns. The primary objectives of the GAMA Program are to improve comprehensive groundwater quality monitoring and to increase public availability of groundwater quality information. Participation is voluntary. The State Water Board implements the GAMA Program with the US Geological Survey and Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory.
